DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

McCauley teaches a method and corresponding system for determining an optimal investment plan consisting of processing real estate loans based on loan data including borrower information, loan term, and information corresponding to real estate. The method and system further consists of a comparison model including an ability-to-pay rate reflecting an interest rate on the loan, default rate, and minimum interest rate realizable reflecting an interest rate realizable if the loan is foreclosed and a new loan secured by real estate is originated.

Although McCauley teaches the above method and corresponding system for determining an optimal investment plan, McCauley does not teach utilizing a collections model to predict payment made by borrowers of each loan included within a portfolio, the collections model being based on historical payment information of the borrower, a plurality of collections strategies that may be utilized for collecting payment from the borrower, and the delinquency category assigned to the loan; comparing payment received during a current month for each loan to the delinquency category assigned to each corresponding loan and the predicted payments for each corresponding loan; comparing payments received for each loan during the current month to the prior month's payment category of the corresponding loan; incorporating management feedback into expectations of future performance wherein management feedback includes recommending a change in collection strategies used for prompting payment from each borrower associated with each loan included within the portfolio and predicting future payment performance of each borrower based on the recommended change in collections strategies; and updating the collections model stored within the computer system based on the payment comparisons and the management feedback, the updated collections model predicts future cash inflows for each loan included within the portfolio, the updated collections model is configured to apply a greater weight to the payment performance of each loan for the current month as compared to the payment performance of each loan for prior months.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
